YEAR 2000 (Y 2 K)

This department has received some enquiries from the traders about the schedule of conversion of the present date and other fields of our computerised system to year 2000 compliant. We understand the concern as this matter is going to affect the entire business industry in time to come.

2 We are pleased to inform you that this department has commenced its work in the Y2K conversion affecting all our systems since last year. This conversion is scheduled to be completed by 31 Dec 98. At the moment, the department is also in the process of developing the new version of TradeNet 2.0 which will be implemented on 1 Jan 1999. It is a year 2000 compliant version, in which the field for declarant and all the dates fields are expanded to incorporate the century.

3 As part of our service to the trading community, we will ensure that all our systems Y2K compliant.
