NOTIFICATION FOR MIGRATING OF REGISTRATION SERVICES

Please be informed that in line with the "Many Agencies, One Government" vision, Singapore Customs will be migrating the following two services to the Online Business Licensing Service (OBLs) on 14 Mar 2006:

- a. Trader Registration for a Central Registration (CR) Number; and
- b. Registration of Exporters of Singapore-origin textiles and apparel products to the USA.

2 The OBLs was officially launched in Jan 2004 to provide businesses with one-stop access to Government Services to apply, update, renew and terminate business licences electronically from multiple agencies. For more information on OBLs, please visit the website at <https://licences.business.gov.sg/>.

Need for SingPass

3 To access the OBLs, a SingPass will be required. SingPass, which stands for "Singapore Personal Access", is your common password to transact with the Government online. With SingPass, you need to remember only one password for dealing with different government agencies. If you do not have a SingPass or have forgotten the password, you can apply and reset your SingPass on the spot at all CPF offices, all Community Development Council (CDCs) offices and selected Community Centres (CCs). Alternatively, you can make an online request at <http://www.ecitizen.gov.sg/singpass/>.
